Killers Nabbed

Road Knowledge Leads to Payoff

An early Christmas morning chase in Randall County netted three Indiana jail escapees and the killer of Tulsa assistant chief of police Robert Potter.

Pursuit of the men resulted from the burglary of Wayne's Cafe in Tulsa. During the burglary Potter discovered the men inside and apparently tried to flush them out.

One of the men came around the building and shot Potter. They then fled toward Randall County.

Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston's story of the chase follows:

"I was at home in bed and received a call about 1:30 saying that there had been a break-in at Tulsa. Officers had reason to believe that the men were headed this way so I got out of bed and dressed.

"There were two night cars out at the time but I called and had Ray Tinsley alerted, too. By the time I started I got the news about the officer's death there.

"We set up two roadblocks immediately. One was just south of town on highway 87 and the other was on Washington Street. I was headed toward the one on 87 when the deputy stationed at Happy reported a car traveling through town at a very high rate of speed.

"He was following the car and reported it turning west on the Buffalo Lake road. I turned back to town and headed out the road south of the high school. I radioed in and had Tinsley come out in the area.

"When I received word that the men had passed the high school road and I turned around and started for Umbarger planning to intercept them there.

"Just as I got on highway 60 and built up my speed they radioed me that they had turned north on a dirt road. There are only two roads north and I turned around and went down the Albert Brown road.

"They turned east and back north and I knew there was only one way out without traveling through fields and pastures.

"I drove my car across the road at a T and got in the bar ditch on the south side of the road. I could see the car coming and just before they came up Tinsley drove up. I told him to keep his lights and red lights on. He got out on the north side of the road.

"We had the cars arranged so they would have to drive on one side and all the lights would be shining on them. They slowed down and were pulling around the cars when we told them they were covered and to get out. "One of them said, 'We've got guns, too.'"

"I told them that if they didn't throw the guns out we would have to start shooting. Their car had stopped in a bad place and I was afraid to shoot because of Tinsley.

"They had one man in the back seat who was going to shoot out the rear and the men in the front seat were prepared to shoot through the front.

"One of them said they would shoot it out and then one said he was giving up.

"I told him to throw the guns out the window and get out. When one climbed out he kicked a gun under the car. We had them stand against the car with their hands up. Tinsley began searching them and one started to take his hands down. I told him he'd better not do that. Wheeler Knox, a Swisher deputy drove up then and we put the cuffs on them."

The trio, James Groover, 31, of Elwood, Indiana, Donald Nicklaus Carson, 27, of Johnson, Pennsylvania and Hoston Lee Winnett, 20 of Sparta, Tennessee, were brought into the Randall County sheriff's office and questioned there.

They were later turned over to Swisher County sheriff Darrell Smith and Texas rangers.

Statements given to Smith identified Winnett as the man who shot Potter.

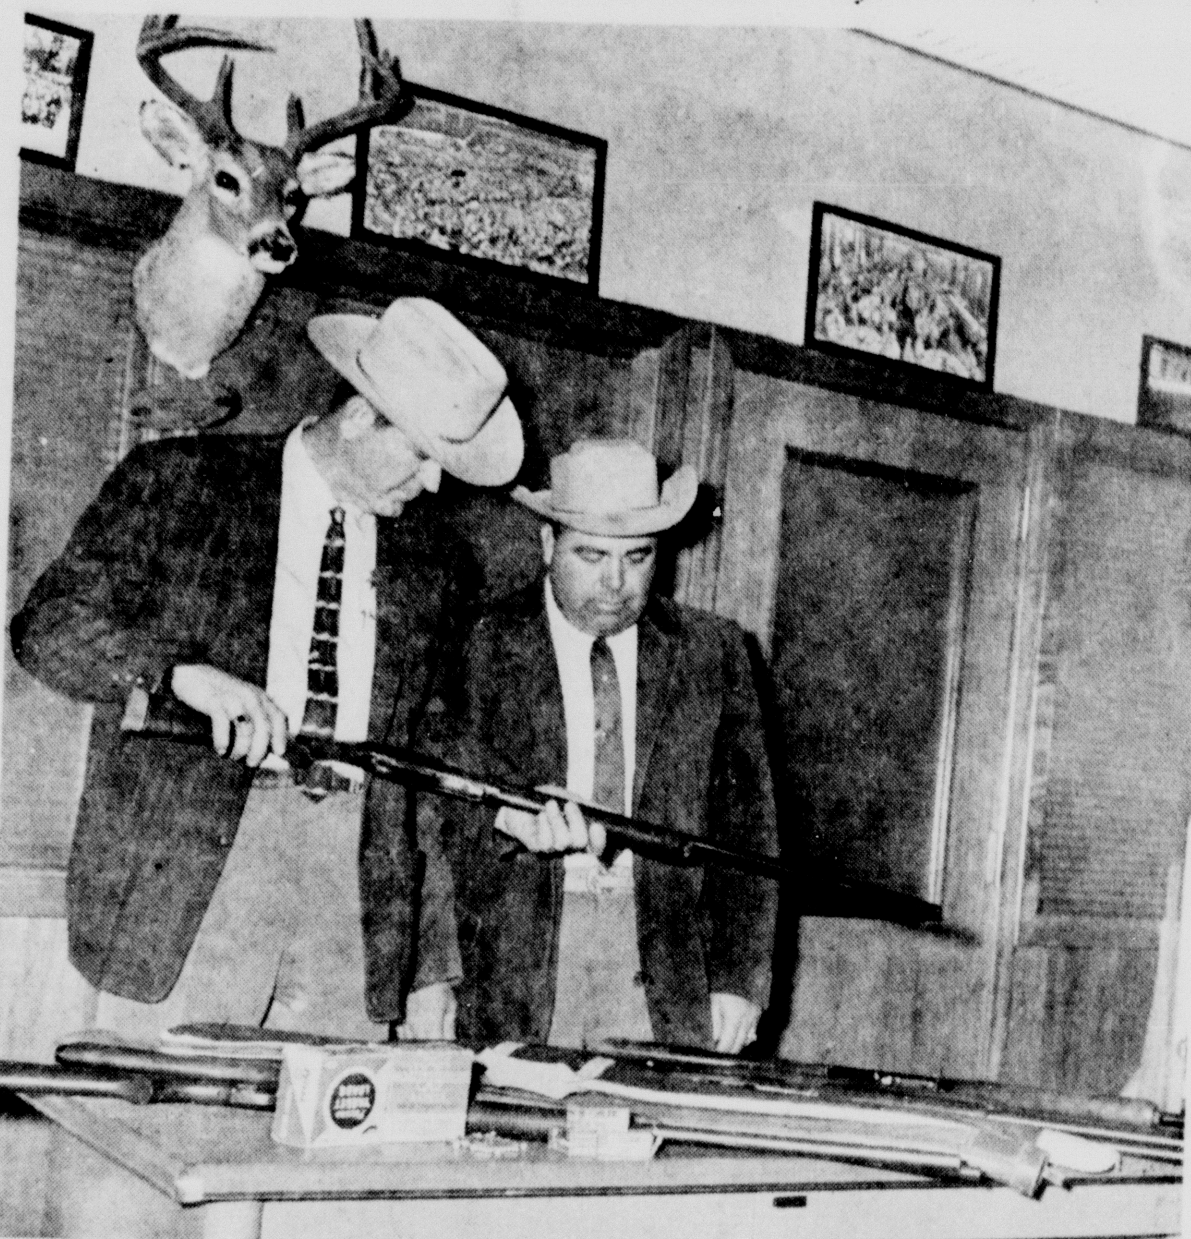

The men broke out of an Anderson, Indiana, jail December 17. Sheriff Johnston said there was a map in their possession with a route marked off to Texas and a circle was drawn around Amarillo. The men told Johnston they had not reached Amarillo.

Several rifles, shot guns and pistols, including Potter's, were found in the car. A hardware store operator from Idalou tentatively identified some of them as stolen from his store. He told Johnston that the men had come in his store and bought a few items. They apparently came back after the store closed and burglarized.

All of them had pocketsful of ammunition and several boxes were found in the car.

The men were arraigned in justice of the peace court Tuesday and were formally charged with murder with malice. Justice of the peace Lee Pearson denied bond.

The grand jury will meet at 2 p.m. Friday to hear evidence in the case.

PART OF THE ARSENAL taken from three men apprehended Christmas Day is shown above. Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston and deputy sheriff Ray Tinsley look the take over. Several guns were returned to Swisher County along with the three men. The grand jury will hear evidence on charges of murder with malice against the men Friday.

Memorial Fund For Tulia Officer Starts

Memorial fund for the late Robert Potter, Tulia law enforcement officer killed in the line of duty, was started this week, according to John Buchanan.

The First National Bank of Canyon will handle contributions. Money goes to survivors of Potter.

School Count Set Jan. 1

Enumeration of school-age children in the Canyon Independent School District will begin January 1.

Directing the census will be Lee Foster, assisted by W. E. Miller and Mrs. Hampton Lisle.

Firemen Busy During Yule Holidays

Fire and smoke damage estimated at $1000 was reported after a basement fire at the Clay Cooper home, 418 Thompson Lane, Sunday evening.

Lighted candles ignited their styrofoam base, starting the fire. Canyon Volunteer Fire Department was called, but the fire was doused before the arrival of the department members.

Three other calls, involving grass fires, were answered either by fire captain Charlie Foster or the entire department during the holiday.

A grass fire started from burning trash was reported Friday afternoon in the 1500 block of 9th Avenue. The fire spread to lawns in the area, but no damage was reported before the fire was put out.

Two grass fires occurred Sunday, Christmas Day. One was south of the Jack Taylor home on Taylor Lane. No damage was reported.

Little damage was sustained in another grass fire, also started by burning trash, in a vacant lot in the 1200 block of 2nd Avenue. However, a stack of fence posts was destroyed.

Evening Classes Begin Here for First Time

Night classes will be offered for the first time on the West Texas State College campus beginning this spring semester, according to Roy G. Boger, director of evening classes.

Up until this time night classes were offered in Amarillo. The evening program has been in operation 18 years. Since its first year of operation in Amarillo in 1942 31,276 persons have enrolled for courses.

Evening-only students can enroll at the Amarillo Center during regular office hours from January 16-January 24. Boger said enrollment should be taken care of on or before January 25 so that a person will be able to take desired courses.

Registration for evening-only students will be held from 7-9 p.m. Wednesday, January 25, at the student union building. Boger said that he and the evening faculty will be present at that time.

Classes begin Thursday, January 26 at 7 p.m. Boger urges students to attend first class meetings so that records will be clear.

If students are not taking courses for college credit no prior work is required. If the work is for college credit he said the pre-requisites must be fulfilled before registering for the course.

Fees for college work are set by state law. A 3 semester-hour course costs $15 for state residents and $50 for non-residents. If a person takes more than 8-semester-hours he must pay a $9 building use fee and a $26 student service fee.

Last date to register for Thursday night class is February 2; Monday, February 6; Tuesday, February 7; and Wednesday, February 8.

Each class meets once a week from 7 until 9:40 p.m.

A total of 118 classes are being offered in 21 fields through the night class program.

City Valuations Cut, Road-Bridge Fund Split

Randall County commissioners voted Tuesday to lower valuations on city residential property 5 per cent.

Action followed a request made by tax assessor-collector Bill Money to equalize taxes between urban and rural holdings.

A re-division of road and bridge funds also passed at the meeting. In the past road and bridge money was passed out with 30 per cent going to the two northern precincts and 20 per cent going to the two southern precincts.

Tuesday three commissioners favored splitting the fund on the mileage basis.

Both moves, a drop in residential valuations and re-allocation of the road and bridge fund, were opposed by C. Y. Johnson, commissioner of Precinct 4.

Johnson said the drop in city valuations was premature and pointed out that no change was made in farm valuations. He said the 5 percent was not enough to equalize the difference.

Commissioner Glenn Dowlen presented the court with the idea to divide the road and bridge fund on a mileage basis. Johnson told the court he would vote against the proposition because there are other considerations.

Commissioner Bailie McCormick asked him what these other considerations were and Johnson said usage is a major factor.

"In that case the north part of the county would receive 80 per cent," McCormick said. A tax ratio study prepared by McMorries and Company of Amarillo was studied by commissioners. Johnson pointed to assessments as low as .08 per cent of farm lands, compared with 25 per cent on city residential property.

Commissioner Clarence Beckman took an item on the study which showed that 85 acres of farm land had sold for $7,500 was on the tax roll at an assessed value of $560. Beckman checked the records and found that actual value, according to the tax roll, is $2800.

When commissioners voted to lower city residential property 5 per cent Johnson asked them what they were going to do about farm valuations.

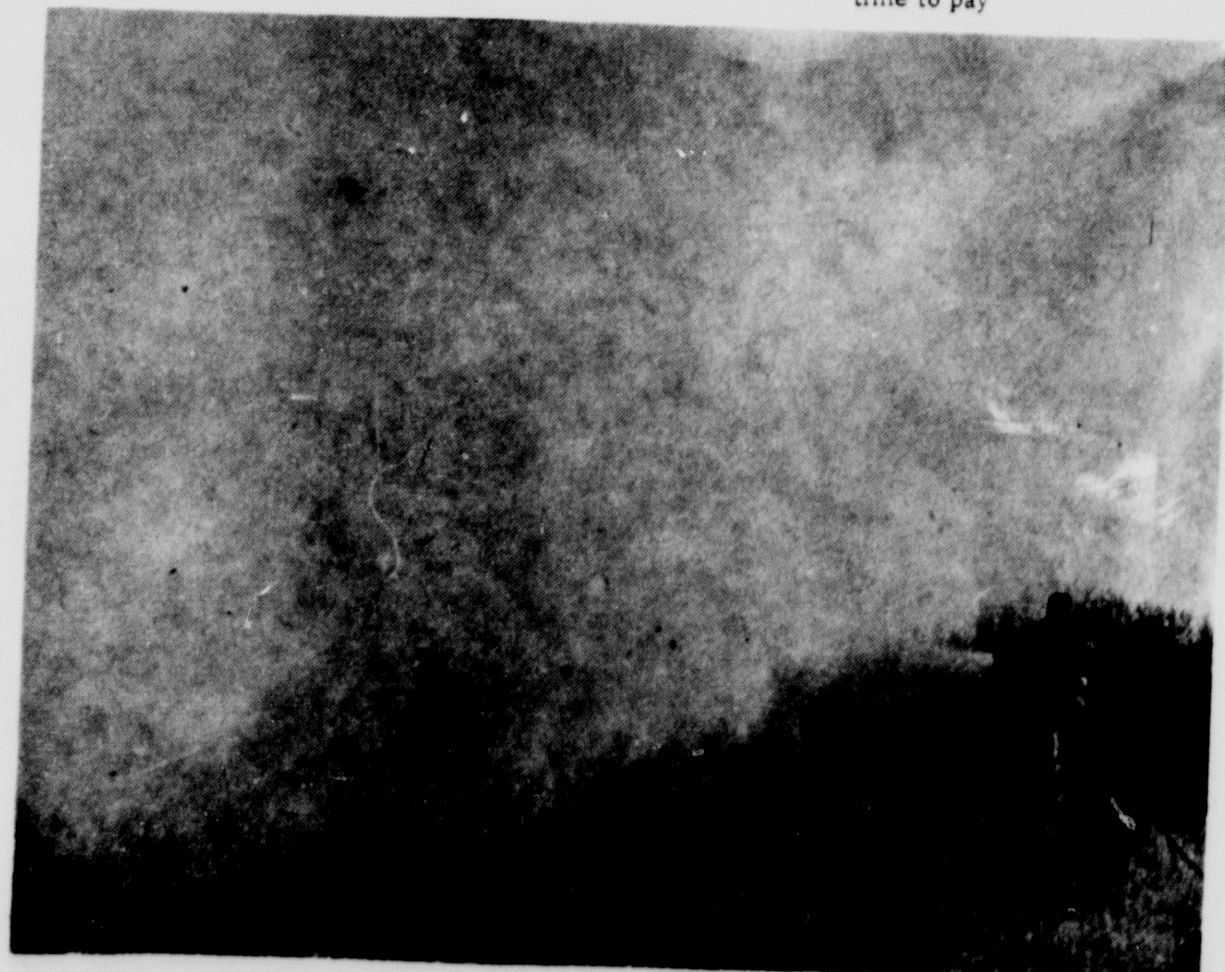

"Leave them the way they are," Dowlen answered.

Johnson said he would vote against the motion on grounds it was premature and the ratio report should be studied further.

"I didn't see anything in it I didn't know for years," Dowlen said.

"You're going to leave the injustices?" Johnson asked.

Dowlen said such a move would be a step toward taxing the farmer off the farm. "Young people can't afford to stay on the farm now," he pointed out. "It's not the farmer paying the high prices for land anyhow. At these prices it would take a lifetime to pay

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN got plenty of practice during the Christmas holidays. Above photo was taken at a grass fire along the railroad right-of-way northeast of town last week. No damage resulted.

HD Agent's Work Planned To Fit Community Needs

MRS. MONA HILDRETH

Work of a home demonstration agent is tailored to fit the needs of a community, says Mrs. Mona K. Hildreth, who serves Randall County.

Nature of the program is designed by a committee consisting of men, women, boys, and girls, who survey needs and decide what program would be suited to the majority of the community.

Mrs. Hildreth in her role as home demonstration agent carries out the program through her work with women's and 4-H clubs, in addition to assisting non-club members with problems.

"This year our program is on home improvement. Next year the committee might call for landscaping or home management," Mrs. Hildreth explained.

"Right now we feel a need for rural civil defense programs. Home demonstration clubs will begin on this in January, with an explanation of the Randall County civil defense plan," she said. Civil defense program ties in with recommendations from the Texas Home Demonstration Association state convention, which annually adopts fields for possible study by the state's home demonstration clubs.

Mrs. Earl Reynolds headed this year's HD committee in civil defense, and Mrs. Bill Wilson will assume duties in January. Members of the committee are Mrs. C. L. Robinson and Mrs. B. G. Bynum.

In drawing up a year's program, the planning committee attempts to include at least one program from each area in the THDA recommendations. This year's THDA convention passed resolutions calling for programs in family life, civil defense, citizenship, health and safety, 4-H and recreation.

Program adopted by the committee is carried out through club work with the assistance of leaders from various clubs. Mrs. Hildreth conducts workshops for the leaders, showing them the methods and explaining each step. Leaders then practice the demonstration and give it before their clubs.

"We rely a lot on our leaders. Without them our work wouldn't be effective. We can give them all kinds of material, but if they don't practice the demonstration, our program is lost," Mrs. Hildreth said.

She begins preparing the demonstration for leaders by doing research in Texas Agricultural Extension Service bulletins, books, and consumer information furnished by companies. She does this to refresh her memory on basic information in a field.

Another source of information is extension service specialists who keep home demonstration agents informed on the latest developments in various fields.

"It takes many hours to work up a demonstration," Mrs. Hildreth said. "The demonstration may be on an old subject, but the approach must be new."

Mrs. Hildreth, who travels an average of 1,000 miles a month in her work, is always searching for new recipes and ideas. She explains that agents are involved in so many programs they need new material and new methods of presentation constantly.

One of the facets she enjoys in club work is watching a woman develop in leadership through assuming responsibilities of club office.

In addition to serving club women, Mrs. Hildreth is available to non-club members. She consults with them, advising them on problems of kitchen arrangement, lighting, draperies, budgeting, canning and freezing. Department of Agriculture house plans are available through her office.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

We learned yesterday that there is to be no peaceful co-existence between Potter and Randall Counties, at least not as far as Potter County's chief spokesman is concerned.

We refer to Tommy Thompson who writes a column in an Amarillo newspaper.

We asked Tommy right out if his column would adopt a friendly attitude toward our neck of the woods. We didn't get an answer. We did learn, however, that he is more or less dedicated to one of three possible solutions of the "Randall County problem."

His first suggestion was that Potter and Randall Counties be combined. We gathered that he would not be averse to having Randall County Court House in South Amarillo.

He also suggested that things might work out better if Potter County were to annex north Randall County. We have not heard South Amarillo folks clamoring for any such "solutions." As a matter of fact, they vote pretty consistently with Canyon on matters of county importance.

We can't help being reminded of the Russian approach to the "Berlin problem." Their solution would be for us to give them West Berlin.

Any one of Tommy's "solutions" would require an amendment to the state constitution. We'll fight any of these moves 'til hell freezes over and we believe that we will have at our side most of the people of Randall County—including those of South Amarillo.

Canyon probably has one of the finest groups of law enforcement officers in the state of Texas or any state for that matter. There are very few unsolved crimes on the books here.

The Randall County sheriff's department during the past three months has made some of the most important arrests in the area. We learned for a fact Christmas morning that Randall County has at least two officers—Sheriff Slim Johnston and Deputy Ray Tinsley—who are indeed fearless. This is attested by facts reported elsewhere in this newspaper.

One scandal in Randall County court house has been used in some instances to cast a shadow over our whole community.

We'd like to remind the pious pointers of North Amarillo that the roots of that scandal were deeply embedded in North Amarillo, that it touched only one office in Randall County while many high offices in Potter County were under suspicion.

Those who would continually re-rinse Randall County's dirty linen might do well to heed the old proverb which states, "If everyone would but sweep in front of his own door, the whole world would be clean."

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Huff, Patricia Jan and Charlotte Ann of Fort Worth spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Baber. Mrs. Huff is the former Mildred Baber.

Guests in the Pat Brittain home during the weekend holiday were her sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Atkinson and Debra of Quanah, and Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Swaffard, Linda, Carol, and Lana, of Amarillo. Mrs. Johnny Swaffard of Amarillo accompanied the Lindsey Swaffards.

Leo Rigsby, a senior at Texas A&M College, is spending the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rigsby. He is to return to College Station January 3.

Visiting in Albuquerque, New Mexico, are Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harp. They are visiting their son, J. T. Harp, and family.

The Joe B. Collins family from Odessa visited in the home of his mother, Mrs. T. W. Collins over the weekend. Others attending the family get-together were the Terril Christians of Claude, the Frank Springs of Priona, and the Edd Bagots of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Coffee are visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Barry J. Gould and twins in Daly City, California. Mrs. Gould is the former Florence Coffee.

Visiting in the S. B. Louder home this week are their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harding, Ben, Jane, and John, of Dallas; and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gray, Richard and Jo Lynne, of Texline.

Miss Alice Brotherton is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Brotherton. Alice is doing graduate work at the University of Texas in Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wear spent several days in Arkansas and Alabama during the holidays. The couple first went to Searcy, Arkansas, where they were joined by their son John, a student at Harding College there. The family then went to Birmingham, Alabama, where they visited with her mother, Mrs. J. E. Snowder, and her sisters, Mrs. T. U. Stubbs, Jr., and family, and Mrs. Bob Boyd and family of Selma, Alabama. The Wears returned to Canyon December 22.

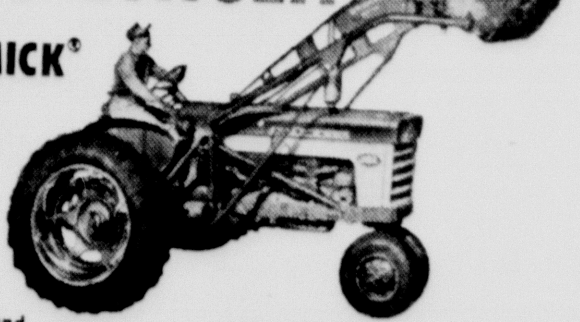

Mrs. W. I. Wester spent Friday night and Saturday with her son, Randall and family in Amarillo. While there she visited Mrs. Isabelle Dickenson who was recently dismissed from a hospital. Mrs. Dickenson remains in a coma, according to Mrs. Wester.

It's nice to be important, but it's more important to be nice—especially in traffic.

There are three distinct advantages that favor hog production in this area. These advantages are: an abundant feed supply; a good market potential; and favorable climate. If one-half of the hogs produced in West Texas were fed to hogs, producers could market 5 to 7 million hogs per year. The West Texas area has an immediate need of nearly one million hogs annually. Texas is a pork deficient state. About one half of the pork consumed in Texas is produced outside our state.

Research work has shown that a climate such as we have is distinctly advantageous in feed conversion. There are a few essentials for profitable hog production. There are: a desire to raise hogs, start small and grow, the need for "staying in" over the years, a complete program—raise pigs and feed for market, disease control, adequate housing, pig-raising sows, produce meaty pigs that bring top market price and yield the kind of cuts preferred by the consumer.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stokes were his niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Baggerun of Groom.

At the present market price for hogs, hogs can be marketed through hogs at $2.50 per hundredweight by a good producer.

Bill Wilson, finance chairman for the Randall County Junior Livestock Exhibition Building, reports some very good support thus far. He will begin soon on an intensive effort to secure funds for the building which is a much needed facility for boys and girls in Randall County and also for many groups other than 4-H and FFA project work.

Visitors with Mrs. Grace McDougal during the holidays were her son, Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon McDougal, Jr., and family of Houston; and daughters, Mr. of McKinney; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Priddy and family of Farmington, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Denny and sons of Lubbock; and Mrs. Leta Gaines and Celia of Amarillo.

Mrs. G. B. Combs visited her grandson and family on Christmas eve and Christmas day for dinner in Amarillo.

Monday guests in the G. B. Combs home were Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Atkins of Big Spring. T. B. Atkins joined the Atkinses in a Christmas dinner Monday.

Bufs Face Sul Ross Lobos

The West Texas Bufs meet the Sul Ross Lobos tonight at the beginning of a two-day tournament at Portales, New Mexico, home of Eastern New Mexico University.

In the round for the winner's trophy are the Bufs, Lobos, the Southwestern Oklahoma Bulldogs and the Eastern New Mexico Greyhounds.

The Bufs began work out Monday after several days off for Christmas holidays. And in an effort to shake the Bufs' four-game losing streak, coach Metz LaFollette will probably send in a new starting five against Sul Ross.

"The boys are working hard and want to beat somebody," LaFollette said, "but we must have a good night to beat anybody." Buff record now stands at 1 win and 5 losses.

YOU can kill, so drive with skill.

Miss Sally Foster Weds Jimmy Brasher Tuesday

Miss Sally Foster became the bride of Jimmy Mac Brasher in a double ring ceremony read at 7 p.m. Tuesday, December 27, in the First Presbyterian Church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Foster, 1201 Fifth Avenue, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Brasher, 2614 Second Avenue.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Charles Dickey of Denton, a long-time friend of the bride's family. He christened the bride when she was four months old.

The candlelight ceremony was very impressive before a choir rail centered with a large fan arrangement of orchid chrysanthemums and deep amethyst pom-pom chrysanthemums and flanked with matching clusters of mums and pom-poms. Large floor baskets stood at the extreme outer edges of the bridal party.

Alternating with the flower arrangements were clusters of cathedral tapers grouped along the choir rail. A background of regular seven branch candelabra holding milk glass votive cups backed the bridal party.

Accents of green emerald foliage were arranged along the base of the gold organ pipes at the back of the choir loft.

Traditional white aisle carpets were used, and three bracht aisle candelabra holding white milk glass votive cups accented the bridal aisle.

Mrs. J. D. Barker, organist, played the bride's favorite wedding music as pre-nuptial music. "Clair de Lune" by Debussy was played as the mothers were seated and candles were lighted. Traditional wedding marches were played, with "Bridal Chorus" by Wagner as processional and the "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn as recessional.

Mrs. Bruce Winn, soloist, sang "O, Promise Me" and "I Love Thee."

All of the bride's attendants were dressed in four different shades of amethyst fashioned in identical chiffon dresses. The candlelighters wore the palest shade, and each attendant was attired in a darker shade. Their chiffon dresses were made on simple lines with very full skirts, cowl necklines, and with elbow length sleeves.

Each attendant wore a white fur head piece and white fur muff which were accented with clusters of amethyst feathered carnations tied with long satin streamers with love knots.

Candle lighters were Miss Carolyn Gray of Bowie and Miss Jean Whinnery of Canyon.

Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Nancy Williams of Tahoka and Mrs. Connie Hedgecock of Canyon. Miss Nancy Wiggins of Canyon was maid of honor.

Janet Williams, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and dropped rose petals from a decorated basket. Chris Olson, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Craig Hinger of Canyon served as best man, and groomsmen were Gordon Williams and Lynn Williams, brothers of the bridegroom.

Ushers were Larry Kitchens, Larry Brotherton, Roy Harris, and Arthur Harding.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of candle light silk peau de soi and Chantilly lace fashioned on princess lines with an empire bodice of lace and portrait neck line, highlighted with iridescent sequins.

Her wide lace panel in back terminated in a long chapel train. The bride wore a two-tiered waist length bouffant veil of imported illusion attached to a queen's crown of orange blossoms and tulle petals. White satin shoes with rhinestone buckles and French kid gloves completed her attire. The bride's only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a wedding gift from the bridegroom.

She carried a white Bible with a cascade arrangement of white stephanotis centered with a large white cattaleya orchid with a deep amethyst throat. Traditional streamers of white satin tied with love knots completed the bridal arrangement.

Mrs. Foster chose a Dior blue brocaded taffeta dress for her daughter's wedding. Her accessories were a feathered hat with tones of dress colors, pearl grey shoes, and above elbow length gloves to match.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a royal blue taffeta dress, with a flowered hat to match. Her shoes were of the same color, and she wore above elbow length white gloves.

Both mothers wore white rosebuds in corsages.

A reception followed in Fellowship Hall of the church. Bride's table was laid with white cut-work linen cloth. An arrangement of amethyst lace carnations with white stock, accented with triple silver candelabra centered the table.

Wedding cake was three tiered with decorations of the

SOCIETY NOTES

Mea. J. W. Hennington was discussing the seasonal hazard of most stores in Canyon--shoplifting.

She says it is surprising how much stores lose during Christmas--and it is sometimes surprising who is among shoplifters. Sometimes it is those that you would least expect to steal.

Another season for shop lifting, as nearly every Canyon merchant knows, is the spring when area high school youngsters are in Canyon to participate in scholastic and music contests. These teenagers shop lift to see if they can get by with it Mrs. Hennington says.

Twin holidays, Christmas and New Year's, are neat bookends holding together six days of puzzlement and rush.

First, there's letters to be written and thank you notes and New Year's cards to be addressed and sent. Then, mistakes in sizes, colors, and patterns must be exchanged with a correct gift being picked out. Too there are the holiday parties and family get-togethers.

Puzzlement arises from the Christmas cards. Every year there is one or two cards that are unsigned. Or Cousin John sent a Christmas card with a nice letter but he neglected to include an address, so you can't answer his letter.

Always there's that one card signed and addressed, but no one in the family can place the people.

The week has one nice feature--clearing up so much post-Christmas activity gives us a clean start on the new year.

Only thing wrong with 1961 is the 1040-Forms that the Internal Revenue Service sends out in January.

shades of amethyst, and the punch carried out the bride's chosen colors. Miss Marcelle Brewer, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Gene Morrison, aunt of the bridegroom, presided at the bride's table.

Miss Clara Long was in charge of the reception table.

Assisting in the reception hall were Miss Pat Downing, Miss Mayla Atkinson, Miss Barbara Myers, Miss Bernice Green, Miss Barbara Lindsey, Miss Ann Jarrett, Miss Melba Haile, Miss Cathy Morris, Miss Nancy Bowen, and Mrs. Suzanne Rogers.

Background music for the reception was under the charge of Wam Moore, who played appropriate arrangements of recordings.

The bride chose a Einiger original suit of amethyst tweed with black fur trimmings and a hat of black velvet with black fur for the wedding trip. Shoes and bag of black patent leather completed her going away costume. Her corsage was lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The wedding trip was to Dallas, where the couple will attend the festivities of the Cotton Bowl weekend, including the football game on January 2. They will make their home in Canyon after January 3. Both will continue their studies at West Texas State.

The bride is a graduate of Canyon High School and is presently attending WT, where she is a member of Chi Omega, national social sorority. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Canyon High School and is studying at WT.

A rehearsal dinner was held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Williams, 2520 Ninth Avenue, with Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Brasher as host and hostess.

Buffet supper was served from a beautifully decorated table, covered with white linen and centered with pink carnations interspersed with white. Individual tables were laid in light pink cloths and napkins.

Assisting were Mrs. Lynn Williams and Mrs. Gordon Williams, daughters-in-law of the Brashers, and Mrs. Wallace Huff and Mrs. Elmo Edmunds, daughters of the bridegroom's parents.

About 30 people were present.
